I am opposed to the implementation of new security measure relating the ferries operating in the US. As things stand commuters are on the strict schedule and adding "security checkpoints" will only hinder us from getting to work and home on time. Additionally Washington State Ferries does not have the ability implement these changes - they can hardly keep their vessels operating!